COPPER JUGS

STAY HYDRATED THE AYURVEDA WAY!

Yogis have been drinking copper water since ancient times. Storing water in copper vessels makes it naturally alkaline, balancing the pH level. As per Ayurveda, this Tamra Jal or copper water balances all three doshas in the body and is known to have various health benefits.

100% NATURAL, 0% GUILTY!

Copper Jugs by Forrest & Love are made from high-grade pure copper and are free of heavy metals and toxins.

The outer surface is polished with food-safe lacquer, whereas the inner surface is kept raw and unprocessed.

Copper is a 100% recyclable metal and if handled well, has a durability of a lifetime!

ENGRAVED COPPER JUG

Serve water, like in a regal Indian palace!
Hand-etched by skilled artisans in India,
it combines ethnic crafting techniques with modern functional silhouette.

Simply fill still water, allow it to rest and see how it gradually transforms into blissful Tamra Jal.

Whether used as a water jug or filled with a flower bouquet, this darling piece will make a much-loved addition to your well decked table.

The Engraved Copper Jug is indeed timeless – the motifs on it are reminiscent of historical items from pre-modern times!
